The President Addresses It on the Subject of Arbitration.

For the Whole World-Comments of the Foreign Delegates-A Republic the Unly True Form of Government.

tent the colored churches and decides maniusly in tayor of organic union was received

The general topic today was "War and d Peace. The first essay, "international Arbit intration," was read by T. Snape, of Liverpool. While reading the address, President Harrison and Secretary Noble entered the ball. Everybody in the church rose to their feet, and there body in the emirch rose to their rec, and there was a burst of appliance as the President ascended the platform. He was presented to the chalcular, who is turn attroduced him to the assemblace. Another murst of appliance included and when that dichlaway, the President stopped orward and said: "I came he could and exist and esteem for this great way of discrete assembled from all countries of the world; and mechanism of the countries of the world; and mechanism of the countries of the world; and mechanism of the transmission of the world; and mechanism of the world; and the world; and Washington, Oct. 17.—The President this afternoon visited the many part for the purpose of the church, but of the unification of human of the church, but of the unification of human should be wiped out before the grand divesions of the church, but of the unification of human should be wiped out before the grand divesions of the church can be united. You have to day as a theme of unclassion the subject of Three mational Arbitration, and this being a public and embryod use of the word, permits makes in presence here as an officer of the United States are that of any other Caristian power in the world. [Appliance] The subject is one which has long attracted attention and it think I may say as his as greatly attracted the interest and adher her of the United States as that of any other Caristian power in the world. [Appliance] It is known to you all that in the recent conservation to a merican thates at Washington a proposition was made and adopted by the adherents of all or nearly all in governments represented that as applied to this hemisphere all international disgues should be settled by arbitration. [Appliance, The Quite possible to apply it to a case of international found. If there is present a disposition to subjugate, an aggress we applie to send termination, it is for a Christian sentiment maniesting itself in a nation to remove forever such causes of dispute and then what remains will be an easy subject of adjustment by fair international arbitration.

"Hu I had not intended to enter into a discussion of this great theme, for the setting customer of the longer of the time of the proposition of the pople were taken customer of the third or the pople were taken customer of the third or the pople were taken customer of the third or the pople were taken customer of the third or the pople were taken customer of the third or the proposition of the pople were taken customer of the third or the proposition of the pople were taken customer.

of dispute and then what remains will be an easy subject of adjustment by fair international arbitration.

"But I had not intended to enter into a discussion of this great theme, for the setting forth of which you have appointed those who have given it especial attention. Let me therefore say simply this, that for myself, temporarily in a place of influence is this country, that much more for the great body of its clingen whip, I express the desire of america for peace with the whole world. (Great applause, It would have been vain to suggest the pulling down of block houses or the desirent ment of settlers on a bottle indum frontier. They would have told you rightly that the conditions were not rine, and so it may be said is probably true that a full application of this principle is not at present possible, the devil still being unchashed. [Laughter] we will still being unchashed. [Laughter] we shall not be unprepared. There is a unity of church and of humanity on lines of progress that are the same. It is by this great Christian we shall not be unprepared. There is a unity of church and of humanity on lines of progress that are the same. It is by this great Christian senting the civil institutions and governments of the world that we will approach universal peace and adopt arbitration methods of settling disputes.

"Let me thank you, Mr. Chairman, and you post leaned of this conference, for the yrivings."

Let me thank you, Mr. Chairman, and you hank you, at that than and you if this conference, for the privilege sclore you for a moment and for dial welcome you have given me was again my high appreciation of or of these delegates and or the the membership of that great source from which they come and to wish that in your remaining deliberations and your journeys to your far distant homes you may have the "uidance and care of that God whom we all revere," [Ap-phanes.] plause.]

care of that God, whom we all revere," [Applause.]

Br. T. T. Stape, of Liverpool, read an essay on "international Arbitration." He spoke of the growth of this idea in the last decade and its importance; made reference to the declaration of the Pan-American concress and the saggestion of that body through Secretary of State Hinne to the governments of Europe suggestion of that body through Secretary of State Hinne to the government of Europe suggesting they should earer into a similar irraty. Switzerland, however, is the only European power that has given a favorable reply. It is greatly to be repretted that among governments which ignored the proposal is that of Great Britain; the more so, because in the arbitration debate in the comments in 18th Previdence flustone had and "Providence had endowed England and America with increased advantages and facilities for the propigation of the principle of arbitration."

Mr. Snape dwelt on the enormous tax necessitated by the tremendous armaments of Europe, and said the suffering inflicted upon the body politic and the hijury sust ined by he-ality and religion through war and its instructions are enormous. In times of actual strife, the claurch refuses to speak less she should offend her moments which is responsible for the war. Prayers are untered for the success of the respective combatants on whose side they serve. Such prayers, if genuinely paraphrasea, can only mean: "Lord lorgive our ensures, but deliver them up to death. Pardon their officuses against thee, but assist us to slay them for their officuses against thee, but assist us to alsy them for their comments which is responsible for the war, to establish international arbitration.

Bishop Newman, of Nebraska, hoped that some day a high supreme court would be es-tablished before which could be adjudicated all differences of the hations of the earth. Until that time should come, however, ustions would do well to prepare to defend their rights. Hev. Dr. Buckley, of New York, was not one of troke who denounced all wars as sin. He believed in lighting for prompine, in righting for his religious rights when unjustly attacked. After a number of other addresses the confer-ence adjourned.

Also a highest constant and passed out of the church, the entire conference rose and applicated his remarks.

Secretary Noble, who was introduced, made a few remarks, the was followed by Sir Julian Pannocfote who was present but made no ad-

Delegates Pleased with the President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.-The Star this evening prints the follows g: There was nothing half hearted in the applause which freely punctu-sted President Harrison's speech in the conference to day. Innumerable were the expres-sions of delight that poured from the lips and sions of detignit that pound after the large hearts of all the delegates, and especially warm and interesting, were the comments of those whose homes are in lands other than this. They were accuratomed, if ever, to seeing the governing power after off and whenever royalty parades in public there is much pomp and mui-rades in public there is much pound and midtary dispins.

"We shall have to do away with monarchies after this," exclaimed Rev. W. F. Dawson, of Glisgow. He was talking to Bishop Hurst and the remark was unade so lainly that every one in the lecture room could hear it.

Rev. Ellery Jones, the eminent and eloquent Welsh proacher, said to a Star reporter: 'My that every rational Englishmen will rourn to at Windsor. It you rolled up all the kings and queens we have ever had suce the days of the conqueror down to the Prince of Wales, you would not make so fine a man as President Harrison, nor could you get out of the composite such an able and courageous speech as that we heard this morning. I venture to say more Methodists in one day have seen and been welcomed by the President of the United States than in fifty years have been recognized and introduced to members of the roya family."
